The Dimmer VIEW

By MAX GOODWIN

John Annis, the Highway Patrol officer who lives in Lemon Grove and works here too, usually rides a motorcycle except on Monday. Says the department puts its motor-bike officers in autos Sundays and Mondays wherever possible. Since most drunk-driving offenses occur over the weekend, officers apparently concentrate on these, leaving the speeders go for weekdays.

It was not always thus, Officer Annis says. Some while back a motorcycle officer picked up a drunk driver in San Ysidro. The officer sat him on the rear end of the motorbike and started for San Diego. The drunk had gone back to his auto to gather a few personal belongings and what the officer didn't know is that the personal effects included a jug of hootch. National Citians were amazed that day to see a Highway Patrolman riding up the town's main stem with a fellow on the back of the motorbike nipping at the jug every few blocks. Enough complaints were lodged to cause the brass to take a second look at the "hauling-in-drunks" process.

One of our favorite columnists, Roberta Ridgely, who writes for Magazine San Diego reports in the curent issue that a La Jolla

Swig From Bottle Puts Tot in Hospital

It's not always the last drink, the "one for the road" that brings a man face-to-face with trouble. Sometimes, it's the first one.

Two year old Johnny Dupuis, son of Mrs. Lela Dupius, 2911 Central Avenue, Spring Valley, was taken to a local doctor's office in the Spring Valley ambulance last Tuesday morning, after his mother reported he had swallowed several sips of cleaning fluid. However, the doctor was not in the office and the little lad was taken on to the La Mesa Hospital where his stomach was pumped.

Mrs. Dupuis, last week, said she wasn't sure if Johnny had swallowed the fluid. She did say, however, that she had been in a habit of keeping all her cleaning fluids under the sink, but since here recent fright she has moved everything to a high shelf.

Mrs. Dupius advices all mothers with small children to keep their cleaning fluid out of the youngster's reach.

SOME LEAK!

175,000 Gallons H²0 Goes Down SV Drain

A second water pipe "geyser" in Spring Valley in a little over two months was caused last Wednesday on Bancroft Drive, in the 2700 block, after a sewer digger of the W. V. Hutchinson Company rammed a three inch stub line.

The leak lasted for about two hours, and caused a loss of about 175,000 gallons, according to Clarence Watters of the Irrigation District. He said the fault was not that of the Hutchison Company. The line on Bancroft Drive, Watters pointed out, has been in since about the early 20s and the HID had no record of the exact location.

The first "geyser" within the aforementioned period, happened on May 12, when it was reported boys threw large rocks down upon an open stretch of pipe, causing a leak.

Parking Dist. Mandatory Says Leasing Executive

Charles Kerch, representative for a business building leasing firm told the Men's Club Friday that off street parking is the key to a healthy business community.

He said studies had shown that people shop "at home" when adequate parking is provided and shopping centers which are being built around the perimeter of many communities are not upsetting the commerce of those communities having a good parking system.

Kerch said a parking district could be formed here now at a reasonable cost. The cost will rise as time passes, he said.

A parking district, if formed, would be charged against business property within the district.

The three basic types of commercial developments are main corners, foot traffic and shopping center, Kerch said. Lemon Grove has approached the "foot traffic" stage. More parking is mandatory to bring it to a "shopping center" classification. When this is done, the business community can defend itself from other "shopping centers" which might be developed nearby, he pointed out.

The College Grove Shopping Center has scheduled a groundbreaking for later this month.

Chairman of Friday's meeting was Kenneth Rister, vice president of the club. He said that Helix Irrigation District Engineer Clarence Watters would talk this Friday about the "Coming Coloarado River Water Ripple."

The club meets each Friday at Michael's at noon. All men are invited.

Man's Back Broken On L.G. Freeway

Bob R. Brown, 25, of Tustin, Orange County, suffered a broken back last week when his car hit a culvert and flipped 63 feet on the Freeway near Grove Street overpass. He was reportedly taken to Grossmont Hospital, but inquiry Friday morning revealed that no patient of that name was being cared for there. "Could have been emergency treatment only, with the patient being transferred elsewhere. We keep no records of such treatments," hospital authorities stated.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Conlee, 2309 69th Street, Lemon Grove, announce the engagement of their daughter Leah to Jay De Elston, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Elston, 7655 Church Street, also of Lemon Grove.

The couple plans a September wedding with a reception at the House of Hospitality.

Miss Conlee was graduated from Helix and is a dental assistant. Mr. Elston also was graduated from Helix, attended Abiline Christian College in Texas two years and is presently attending San Diego State College. —Tappy Foto.

JOHNSON BROTHERS TOGETHER AGAIN AFTER FIFTY YEARS

Two Johnson brothers were reunited last week in Lemon Grove, after a separation of 50 years.

Martin G. Johnson, 72, of 7908 Barton Drive, met his brother after half a century.

"The last word I had from Otto was a post card from a YMCA camp in France two weeks after the armistice was signed." (Nov. 11, 1918).

The brothers had come to America from Gufault, Sweden, in 1900. They went to Omaha. In 1907 Otto went to St. Paul. Martin had not seen Otto since.

Otto traveled west to the gold fields, where he worked until the war started and enlisted in the Army. The brothers corresponded regularly prior to 1907, infrequently to 1908, and after the post card from the YMCA camp in France, no word.

Over the intervening years Martin tried to get in touch with Otto through government offices, without success. Two years ago Mrs. Martin Johnson took over the search in earnest, finally locating Otto in Columbia Falls, Montana.

Otto said he returned to the gold fields in Nevada and Wyoming after the war, and that he too had tried to locate Martin, who had moved.

Otto, whose home is in Montana, is married, no children. Fruit season is on in Montana, and Mrs. Otto thought she had better stay and watch the neighbors' kids and the birds, so they would have fruit next winter.

Mrs. Martin Johnson, when interviewed by phone, said they had moved to East San Diego from Omaha, seven years ago, lived there five years and moved to Lemon Grove two years ago. They have four sons and a daughter, and a son and two grandsons are visiting them at this time.

It is a very happy occasion for all concerned.

The Martin Johnsons plan on visiting their Montana relatives next year. "They know where to find Otto now," Mrs. Johnson says. —DH

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Bridal attendants were Miss Joyce Saunders, maid of honor, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Quimby Turner, matron of honor, sister of the bride, and Miss Sherry Johnson, bridesmaid. Christie Hanson was flower girl.

Robert Crooks was best man and ushers included Larry Heindel, Chuck Hale, Tom Wied and Tad Thomson.

A reception for 200 guests was held immediately after the ceremony.

Both of the young people are Helix High School graduates. Mr. Saunders will enter State College as a student in the fall.

Invisible Stain Trips Attractive Purse Rifler

A decoy purse, baited with a $5 bill that had been chemically treated to leave a bright green stain on human hands, led to the recovery of a missing watch at Grossmont Hospital and the arrest of a nifty-looking 20 year-old secretary last week.

The watch, a gold railroad style pocket model, was found in the glove compartment of a car being used by Jane Andree Dundas, 20, 5131 69th Street, San Diego. Miss Dundas, employed two months ago as secretary to the director of nurses at Grossmont, was arrested and charged with two counts of petty theft.

The trap which led to the girl's arrest was set by Pinkerton detectives who had been hired after a number of purses had been pilfered at the hospital in recent weeks.

Louis Peelyon, hospital administrator, gave the following account of events leading to the recovery of the timepiece, which disappeared June 13 while its owner, Charles Tinker of La Mesa, was a hospital patient. Aside

'Watch That Hand, Sambo It's In My Pocket!'

Two gentlemen of color have been working in collusion in Casa de Oro area of late. Their practice has been to engage men, preferably of mature age, in conversation and work a scheme to get a sight of the victim's wallet. Then, after learning the location of the proposed victim's poke, one would get it out of the pocket, extract the contents, and slip the wallet back into the pocket, all without said victim's knowledge.

Victims reported the occurence to Sheriff's deputies, usually the next day, but refused to swear to a complaint, until one victim got "took" for $130 and he yelped long and loud. As yet the "highwaymen" have not been grabbed. Gosh, it ain't safe to have a dollar in your hip pocket these days. If any of you gents get held up, don't hesitate to holler to the deputies, and do it now. —DH

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

In the July 25 edition of the Lemon Grove Review, you quoted the remarks of Mr. Keller, traffic manager of the S. D. & Arizona Eastern Railway, part of which referred to "the Parade Marshal, if he had the brains of a linnet." As I am probably the Marshal he referred to, as I did act as an advisor on this parade

Dulzura Men Charged With Possessing Liquor, Starting Fire

Two Dulzura youths, William R. Patterson, 19, of the Dulzura Road Station and James A. Murphy, 18, the Bamboo Inn, were charged with two felony counts of setting fire to brush land and possessing liquor illegally, were arraigned in Municipal Court in El Cajon.

Both are held in county jail in lieu of $3,000 bail each.

Patterson was acquitted by a jury in the same court the week before on a charge of resisting arrest. The charge was brought by Deputies Tom Johnson and Robert Norton. Johnson't right hand was broken in a fight that started among the three men.

Deputy Ralph Nunnery received a call from Potrero that two youths were drunk and jumping in a nearby lake with their clothes on. While investigating, Nunnery noticed a small brush fire west of Tecate near Highway 94. The fire was put out quickly by the forestry boys.

Nunnery said he and Sgt. Ernest Sable spotted the suspect's car a short time later near Indian Head Springs on Highway 94. The youths first denied starting the fires. Murphy later signed at written statement that Patterson had started both fires. Paterson signed a statement that he had started only one fire.

Somebody will get a chance to "Thimk" behind the bars.

Padres Can Win Pennant Says Metkovich

Not one who gives up easily, Manager George Metkovich isn't counting the San Diego Padres out of the penant race, although he admits they face an uphill battle.

"We can't give up," Metkovich said after Hollywood had won four out of six key games from his team. "Indianapolis was further back than this last year and came on to win the American Association pennant. Many of the players who participated in that pennant push now are with the Padres and they still think they can do it again.

"Hollywood still has the edge, though, because the stars will be playing Portland and Sacramento most of the time in the closing weeks. I still think the Stars are the team to watch. They have one of the hustlingest teams that I have ever seen and their pitching is fine."

State To Study Effects Of Tranquilizers

Two new research grants from the federal government have swelled the growing program of planned reseach in mental disease that California is engaged in, Dr. Walter Rapaport, Director of the State Department of Mental Hygiene announced today.

The grants from the National Institute of Mental Health will provide $8,600 to study the effect of the new tranquilizing drugs on state hospital release rates and $9,400 for a two-year study design to make immediately available for research purposes, medical and social information about state hospital patients.

The first study will be carried out at the departmental headquarters in Sacramento and is sparate from other investigations by the Department of Mental Hygiene into the effects of the new drugs.

The second study will be carried out at Sonoma State Hospital and will seek to set up a new technique of recording information so that it will be readily available for a wide range of different research projects.

"These two new studies are indicative of the emphasis we are placing on continuous and planned research into the mental illnesses," Dr. Rapaport said.

EARLY HISTORY OF VALLEY RE-LIVED IN LOCAL PAGEANT

Jean Eskridge, playing the part of Olga Margarita, does a Spanish dance for early Spring Valley residents.

Hubert Howe Bancroft, played by Mike Krauss, left, is in the process of buying the adobe house and ranch from its owner at that time, Capt. Rufus Porter, played by Bill Doughmon.

By H. A. THOMAS

The Spring Valley Pageant, entertainment and concert last Sunday, on the Chamber of Commerce grounds, was well received by the close to 400 persons who attended. It was a mild day, as far as the weather was concerned, and the setting under the shade trees was one to be long remembered.

Betty Seymour Robinson, writer-producer of the "Spring Valley Pageant" is to be commended on the show, as are all who took part. The Pageant went off like clock works, everyone giving an excellent performance. Several scenes from the Pageant were presented on tee vee last Monday night.

The City-County Band, under the direction of Spring Valley's Richard Braun, received great applause, which would make even the Hollywood Bowl take notice. Here is the list of musicians (according to section): flute, Larry Melhorn and Adrian Negrette; oboe, Wade Fite; bassoon, Earl Leason; clarinets, Bob Marr, Bob Olisar, Don Ide, Lon Westbrook, Willie Welch, Val McNally, John McCrea, Harlan Boucher; saxophones, Ron McConnehea, Eddie Fisher, Dick Harvey, Bob Parette, and George Dolbier; French horns, Dick Powers, Fred Porter and Keith Polk; trumpets, Don Phillips, Don Tindal, Dave Greeno, Louis Campiglia and Joe Simpson; trombones, Roger Welles, Gardner Kendall and Bart Hazlett; baritone, Henry Simpson; tuba, Gene Holloway and Bill Watt; drums, Harry Adams, Dick Mooney and Warren Sauer.

Spring Valley people who enjoyed this delightful music could drop a line to the City-County Band Commission at Civic Center, telling how much it was enjoyed. It will help a great deal to bring these fine musicians back again.

The dancing of Jean Eskridge and her group, and the Indian dancers from San Diego added a great deal of "color" to the festivities.

The closing act by the Spring Valley "Dripsters," doing their pantomime jazz band, put a very delightful and amusing finale to the afternoon's festivities. This last group may be seen again in the near future. The notice will be posted.

Boy and Girl Scouts, with several of the leaders, contributed a great deal in helping to see that the cars were parked and refreshments obtained. The ladies of the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce with their bake sale helped to raise some funds to be added to those already obtained for the restoration of the old adobe building.

Many of the people of the Valley, as well as those out of the Valley, had an opportunity to see the old pictures of the Spring Valley area and several relics, along with several gold trophies won by the Chamber of Commerce in past parades around the county. This all was under the direction of Mrs. Eileen Smith, Spring Valley's historian.

Luke Barbour, past president of the SV Chamber of Commerce, who was general chairman and emcee of the festivities, is to be congratulated for a job well done. It was he and his willing helpers who did the decorating and to see that as many persons as possible were seated.

Last, but not least, a big "thank you" went to Bruce Cozart of Monterey Heights, who did such a good job as narrator for the Pageant, along with Spring Valley's Jim Wilson and Betty Seymour Robinson.

Depicting the history of the adobe house and land in Spring Valley, Ted Phillips (left) plays the part of Judge A. S. Ensworth, and is dickering for the place with the first owner, a sheepherder, played by Chet Smith. The shepherder's children (back to camera) are Lynn Rexroad and Bobby Danner.

Little League Park Gets Shades And The Game Goes On

Fans attending Little League games at the ball grounds were agreeably surprised last week to find a shade over the spectators' seats.

"Even on hot afternoons, the shade provided made the "grandstand" cool and very comfortable," one fan stated.

The flag pole has been repaired and is again operating.

We were talking recently with a lady whose young son plays on his school's team on the west side of Lemon Grove. We remarked on the becoming dark coat of tan the lady had acquired —asked how she got it. She said "the ball games. My boy plays and insists that I come and see him in action. And Boy, does it get hot."

Frank Freeman, 7710 Mt. Vernon Street, who operates a van and storage firm in San Diego, is sponsoring the farm teams, the Mounties and the Raniers in the Lemon Grove Little League, according to Jim Massey, coach of the Angels.

Yarn About Ambrosio Ruis, Like Julian Gold, Peters Out

This story will tell about gold, murder, a lynching and happenings prior to 1910, and a few details of a search for data on a former marshal of Julian, who later came to El Cajon and was "the law" in that little city from 1910 'til his death in 1918.

If you don't like "Westerns," don't like to read about killings, stop right here, for I have dug up some authenticated facts that will not interest you.

This search for data started a month ago, when the editor, who directs my rovings in a measure, asked me to interview Richard Ruis.

Ruis had a page from the Sunday Union dated October 1, 1950. This page had a story about Julian and its early days. The item that interested this young man concerned his grandfather, Ambrosio Ruis, who came to Julian about 1900, was marshal (chief of police) and "the law."

Frank Gorman, 13, stubbed his toe on a rock on Washington's birthday, 1870, and uncovered a ledge of "picture rock." Before the year was over, $150,000 in gold had been shipped out of Julian.

Peak of the operation was in 1873 when a half million dollars was the "take."

Luck has always played against Julian and Banner mines.

Here's where Grandpa Ruis comes in. He was a Yaqui Indian, who came from Mexico, about 1900. Married to a Mexican woman, Ruis was attracted to Julian by the gold rush, appointed chief of police, handled the job capably.

A drunken Mexican, called Lopez, was returning to Banner from Julian one afternoon, met a white woman carrying a baby in arms, stabbed her to death and went on to San Filipe Indian reservation, about 10 miles from Banner.

Word of the murder reached Julian promptly and Ruis, noted for his skill in tracking suspects —"he could trail a grasshopper across a rocky field," it was said, took over, traced the murderer to the Reservation, demanded the suspected man from the Chief. Told the chief if he didn't turn the suspect over he would bring a party from Julian and they would wipe out the village. Marshal Ruis delivered the man Lopez to the Vigilantes in Julian and Lopez was promptly lynched. This was the only lynching held in Julian, despite the consumption of 40-Rod Whiskey—Julian's own brand—so called because after the first drink a man could jump 40 rods.

Julian's "Boot Hill" has 75 buried in Whiskey Row.

After Julian's gold rush petered out, Grandpa Ruis came to El Cajon, was appointed chief of police, and kept order in the then village for several years. I made two tries to see the present chief, but he was "out" both times, but 1910 was about the date of Ruis' arrival in El Cajon. Luis Marcos, another Yaqui Indian, who has been working for A. L. Ballantyne for 35 years, knew Ruis very well, and gave the date of his own arrival in the village as 1913.

Grandpa Ruis had two sons, Ambrosio and Joe. Joe was employed by the Irrigation District, served as foreman and kept the flume full of water for 51 years. He died recently.

Perhaps you are wondering what all this has to do with the grandson, Richard. Well, I finally got in touch with this lad at the remodeled Grove Theatre and got little information. Richard never saw his grandfather, he said. He appointed a meeting at noon two days later. "You know how much I get per hour? $3.25, and I can't take any more of the boss' time."

This lad—I judge he is about 30—said he was married when 17, has been paying alimony for seven years, has two daughters. He is a handsome young man, and privately, I think he is going to step off the available list shortly, for on my second session with him, during the noon hour, he was talking about the cost of paint for decorating his new house in Fletcher Hills.

On my way to see Ambrosio Ruis, Grandpa's son by his second wife, I stopped at El Cajon's Fire Dep't headquarters to locate 344 Prescott St. A fireman was asleep under the running engine, charging the battery, I presumed, but I didn't wake him, went on into the building, found a young man cooking supper, who kindly directed me to Prescott Street, two streets over. At that address I located Ambrosio Ruis, who with two other men was moving a marine engine from one pick-up truck to another.

Ambrosio could tell me little about his father. Said the old gent had bought the place of one acre, for $60 and he was offered $58,000 for it recently. He wants $60,000.

Charlie Kelly lives next door, Ruis said. "He knew the old man."

So I went next door and there was Charlie Kelly, whom I knew slightly 60 years ago. His father ran catfle in the mountains. We had a pleasant chat, but Charlie didn't have much info about Marshal Ruis. Said that Luis Marcos, who had worked for Andy Ballantyne for 40 years, could tell.

Son Ambrosio said his mother "could tell you all about the marshal, but she died three months ago. Now if you could talk with Pete Rias at Johnstown, he could tell you."

That finished my quest for a story about the Ruis clan. It was interesting to me to talk with these old-timers. —DH

Motorized Wheelchair Makes Life Easier For Svea Yeager

By DICK. HENDERSON

Svea Yeager, 18, who graduated from Grossmont High School in June, after having been confined to a wheel chair for 15 years, and unable to speak since her third year, has recovered her usual health following the disturbances incident to her graduation, and is taking her vacation at home, watching her birds, playing with her dog, who guards her zealously, viewing TV.

Svea is a victim of a form of cerebral palsy, cannot speak, communicates with her mother by using the index finger of her right hand and "air writing." She is an avid reader, writes a good hand, laborously. She astonished her mother recently by telling her "that the average woman's skin weighs 18 pounds." Svea dug that item from her reading.

The big news about our "graduate invalid" is that she has been loaned a powered wheel chair, electrically driven, and Svea can push the button control. She is able to get around her home from room to room, let the dog in or out, visit the birds in the back yard, turn on radio or tv as she elects, all by herself.

If you have had to wait for someone to turn on the radio or pick up something that has fallen to the floor, if you have been unable to put on your shoes without help, you can appreciate what it means to be able to "do it yourself." This reporter recently suffered a back injury, had to have help dressing (Pearl had to help for a couple of months), you can appreciate more readily what this power chair does for Svea.

The chair, which costs about $500, is on loan only. It may be necessary to appeal for financial aid for its purchase, but that will come up later.

I called on Svea last Sunday and saw her manipulate the chair—turn on the radio and tv, turn on the air cooler. Only then did I realize the constant care required by this girl for all these years, and the struggle she has made to get an education.

Through it all the brave mother has carried on—she presently has an office job—though she was a graduate nurse before her marriage. Mrs. Yeager keeps cheerful, says things are okeh at present, anticipates a possible necessity for home employment so that Svea can be cared for by her entirely. —DH

SALE OF BONDS TO GAIN MORE STATE AID FOR DISTRICT

A resolution to sell $300,000 in school bonds, was passed by the La Mesa-Spring Valley Board of Trustees, when that group met last Monday night. The original amount of the bonds was $960,000, which were voted in on March 20, 1956. So far the District has sold $407,000 worth and still has a balance of $553,000 in the bonds.

The County Auditor was notified of the Board's intention this week. The selling of these bonds is a must by the District, in order that it might be eligible for additional State Aid for future building.

Fred Lance, business manager for the LM-SV School District, said that the District is doing everything in its power in order to stay on single session.

FARMS

There have been several persons interested in farming the 7½ acres of land adjacent to the Spring Valley Junior High School located north of Campo Road and west of Conrad Drive.

The Board adopted a resolution last Monday to lease the property to the highest bidder, the bids to be open August 26. Deadline for the bids will be 7:30 p.m., August 26. Anyone interested in getting information and bid matter may do so by going to the business office of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District, 4750 Date St., La Mesa.

SIGNED

One of the highlights of the Trustee's meeting was the signing of the architect contractor's payers, giving La Mesa architect Raymond Lee Eggers full power to proceed. The contract is covered by Federal Advance Funds.

Architect Eggers' work is on the additions for the Casa de Oro School; four classrooms and a kindergarten. His work has already started. It is hoped that the actual construction work will start sometime within the coming year.

FURNITURE

The furniture and cabinet work for the new Briar Patch School was let at the meeting of the Board. The Brunswick Balk-Collender Company of Chicago, was low bidder (meeting specifications) on the furniture. The Educators Furniture Supply Company of Sacramento, received the contract for the cabinets.

Whatever we conceive well we express clearly and words flow with ease. —Boileau.

COUNTY RENTS OTAY AREA FOR PARK

Leasing to the County of a 100 acre park site at the south end of Lower Otay Reservoir was authorized by City Council Wednesday.

The County will receive a 10-year lease, with option to renew, in return for $1 a year, maintenance costs and improvements.

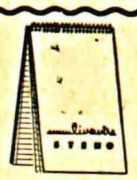

The Board of Supervisors had earlier approved the site as a park. Jean Vincenz, Director of Public Works, said it could be converted into a park for about $22,500, much less than the cost of a park elsewhere.

SAVINGS ASSOCIATION TO CHANGE NAME

John A. Davis, President of La Mesa-El Cajon Savings and Loan Association, today announced that the Savings and Loan Commissioner of the State of California on July 25, granted approval for the Association to change its name to Southland Savings and Loan Association.

Davis commented that the name change has been considered for some time as the present name is not representative of the communities being served by the Association, particularly since the establishment of a branch office in Lemon Grove in 1956. Davis stated that Association customers will welcome the change.

The Association was founded in uly, 1946, and now has offices in La Mesa, El Cajon and Lemon Grove. The total resources as of June 30, 1957 were $11,534,284.25.

Brumbaughs, Like The Marines, Go By Land, Sea and Air

Dr. Simon Brumbaugh is back in harness again after a 10 day vacation during which he and his wife traveled by land, sea and air.

They visited Marineland, Catalina, Carmel, Yosemite and San Francisco with former classmates of Dr. Si's. These were Dr. William Allgair and his wife of South River, New Jersey, and Dr. Charles Jernstron of Santa Cruz.

Mrs. Brumbaugh, who soon expects another youngster to keep company with the three she left at home reported that they made the trip in Dr. Allgair's car, except for the boat trip to Catalina, then flew home from San Francisco.

SV Girls Collect Eye-Glasses For Mexicans

The eye glasses project, which is being promoted by the Spring Valley Girl Scout Troop 565, is going over in a big way, according to Mrs. Eileen Smith, Girl Scout leader.

Troop 565 has had this project since the beginning of 1956, and has been asked to continue. Sponsor is the South Bay Lions Club.

The cast-off eye glasses or parts thereof, are sent to the International Eye Glass Bank at Tijuana, Mexico. There they are cleaned, the lenses reground, the frames assembled, and after the final work is done, the glasses

More and more glasses are are distributed to needy persons needed, so when one of the local Girl Scouts comes to your door for some cast-offs, see that she gets them.

The Girl Scouts of Troop 565 recently sent a box-full of glasses to the bank and received the following letter from the secretary:

"We are most thankful for your cooperation of discarded glasses, cases, etc. It is indeed a worthy cause, and may we suggest your troop continue the good work for this worthy cause.

"Please express our thanks for your fine endeavor to the Scouts and yourself.

"Cordially, International Eye Glass Bank."

The letter was addressed to Phyllis E. Smith.

and also as a Division Marshal in it, I would like to point out a few facts.

First, I am sure all Lemon Grove residents were surprised to learn from Mr. Keller's remarks, that his railroad has a "schedule" much less operates on one, in view of the known operation of this once in awhile railway, with is lackadaisical attitude in this community. I am sure the "brains of a linnet" would not reveal the necessity of obtaining the permission of the railroad to have our parade. If the trains can stop for long periods of time in front of my office, you would assume that such a thing could also be done on our Parade Day.

But such was not the case, for with that Oh-SO-Loud horn ablasting, children with their pets, together with other parade entries were forced to flee from the railroad right-of-way and the street adjacent to it, the parade was disrupted, and the spectators angered by the lack of consideration, as the train plowed on its way through the parade.

It might have been well for Mr. Keller to investigate, before making the remarks credited to him, for perhaps the intelligence of a "linnet" might aid the operation of the railroad he represents, and remove the necessity of future situations such as this.

Sincerely,
A. E. Howell

Invisible Stain Traps Rifler

from the watch, detectives noted that $5 bills were frequently disappearing from purses left by nurses in the director's office.

So the "dicks" placed a lady's white handbag in a desk drawer. In the handbag was a red billfold, in which were several $1 bills and one $5 bill that had been chemically treated with an invisible powder which, when touched by dainty, warm, moist fingers instantly stains the "pinkies" a bright green. Twenty-four hours after setting the trap, an employe hurried into Peelyon's office, said the hand-bag had been rifled. Peelyon called police, then went to the nursing director's office, learned that Miss Dundas had left word she had been taken ill and had gone home. Police discovered Tinker's watch in her car, along with Tinker's driver's license.

Miss Dundas entered a plea of guilty through her attorney Wesley Buttermore Jr., in El Cajon court and sentencing has been scheduled for September 4.

Mrs. Fannie F. Stevenson of La Miss Sandy Admire, Jamul, was maid of honor. Miss Pat Lindhal, Grossmont was bridesmaid.

John Monroe, brother of the bride, was best man. Clifford Fyke was usher. Christine Scott was flower girl and Rory Clark was ringbearer. A reception for 100 persons followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Osborne is a student at Grossmont and a former resident of Spring Valley. Mr. Osborne is in the Navy, stationed at Brown Field in Chula Vista.

BELT SAVES LIFE

Waukegan, Ill. — Arthur Doty, 22, credits the fact that he was strapped in the seat of his car with a safety belt with saving his life. Doty's car roared along the shoulder of the highway, then spun out of control, going frontward, then sideways, and then frontward again, then sideways for 230 yards. The auto rocketed into a utility pole and snapped it in half. It then went 140 feet more and crashed into a two-foot thick tree. Doty, although seriously hurt, was alive, despite a fractured pelvis, broken left elbow and head injuries. When found he was still strapped in the seat.

Widow Bears Namesake For 'Bob' Gigliotti

On May 18, Algide "Bob" Gigliotti, 33 year old son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Gigliotti passed away after a lingering illness. He left two children, aged 4 and 6.

July 16, two months after his passing, an 8 pound 11½ oz. son was born to his widow, Jeanne Gigliotti.

The mother named the new one Bob. Both mother and son are doing well.

The arrival of the namesake moved its grandmother, Mabelle (Mrs. Frank) Gigliotti to pen the following prose which she titled "Legacy."

LEGACY

Little Bobby, new-born grandchild,
Sweet reminder of your father,
Whom on earth you'll never see,
Don't cry, Bobby, we all love you,
And Dad left a legacy:
(Don't be sad)
Left you a good name and fine memories,
Yes, he left you all he had;
Left you monuments of beauty
In the houses that he built,
Left you songs of inner yearning
To reveal his heart to you,
Left you friends who dearly loved him
Who will love you for his sake;
Left his hope and faith and duty
Burning in our hearts for you.
With your Mother, Sister, Brother,
Smile, dear Bobby, don't be sad,
You have many sweet reminders
In all these you'll see your Dad.

A social hour will follow and interested people are always welcome.

JUDGE GARFIELD ASKS COURT CONSOLIDATION

A formal request to consolidate El Cajon Municipal Court district with Homeland (Lemon Grove) Judicial district and appoint a second municipal judge was sent to the Supervisors last week by Judge Garfield.

Judge Garfield presides over El Cajon Municipal Court. He asked the Supervisors to approve the consolidation under a new state law, just signed by Governor Knight, which states in part:

"In the event the Board of Supervisors of San Diego County consolidates all or a substantial part of Homeland Judicial District, there shall be two judges."

Judge Luther Hussey of Lemon Grove presides over the Homeland Court. His is a Justice district and his court is limited to trial of civil suits involving no more than $1,000, and to misdemeanor cases. Garfield's court tries civil suits up to $3,000, also handles preliminary hearings in felony cases.

Judge Garfield, in his letter, pointed out to the Board that the merger of the two districts into one of municipal status would save money for court operations and help relieve the existing case overload.

Present budget for Homeland Court is $10,000, not including court room rent or bailiff's salary. In addition, the 1957 county budget contains item of $25,000 for the purchase of land for a court site. —DH

An Afterthought For Today

It is important to build character. And, sometimes, it is important to rebuild. — Brunswick (Ga.) News.

WASHINGTON SUMMARY
by ED KOTERBA

KICK-BACK SCANDAL

Sen. John Williams of New Jersey tossed a bombshell into the complacent "accepted practice" of big manufacturers who've been paying bribes to officials of foreign governments—at taxpayers' expense.

Numerous American firms have kicked back tens of thousands of dollars, it is charged, to foreign officials who helped "facilitate" big overseas contracts.

Williams plans a thorough congressional airing.

ATTACK ON CHIEF JUSTICE

Members of Congress—including a number of Democrats—privately lambaste Democratic Senator Byrd of Virginia for his recent tirade on the Senate floor.

Byrd lashed out at Chief Justice Warren's "ultra-liberal influences" and compared him with the despised Thaddeus Stevens of Pennsylvania.

Rep. Thompson of New Jersey said Byrd's attack was "sheer demagoguery."

OIL BILL SHAKY

The oil industry's in a frenzy . . . worried that the natural gas bill may be sidetracked by civil rights debate.

Also concerned about growing opposition by housewives who express fears to their congressmen that cooking gas costs would go up.

The oil people are spending several millions of dollars for advertisements the next few weeks to tell their side of the story.

FHA INTEREST UP

The FHA expects to raise its interest rates on homes to 5¼ per cent within the next few weeks.

FARM PROFITS DOWN

In the first half of 1957, net income of farm workers stood at the rate of $790 a year (average over the U.S.). This is the same as last year, the lowest in six years.

What makes the farmer's plight worse is that the cost of living went up 4 per cent in the past year.

NEW POSTOFFICES

A new way of financing postoffice buildings and other government structures will be voted by congressmen.

Congress wants a pay-as-you-go plan. Now in effect is a lease-purchase plan. In the past four years, 149 buildings were authorized at cost of $714 million under lease-purchase, but only two have been started.

Reason for the slow starts is that under the lease-purchase idea, the government would have to pay additional $750 million in interest and local taxes before it would own the buildings.

The new plan may "unfreeze" many long-standing postoffice building projects.

IKE GETS BLAME

Blame for Congress' failure to put across the full civil rights

bill—brainchild of the Administration—is, ironically, directed at the President.

Liberals claim he did not back up the bill forcefully. As pointed out in this column several weeks ago, Ike had disclosed privately to close friends that he was for "moderation" in civil rights.

NO BATHING FOR REDS

Despite torrid heat in Washington, Russian diplomats and families are barred from their traditional summer resort spot on Chesapeake Bay . . . This is our government's way of retaliating for Soviet's harrassment of Americans in Moscow.

TOBACCO SUBSIDIES

Sen. Neuberger of Oregon wants the government to stop subsidizing the growing of tobacco . . He says it's ridiculous for the government to be helping along a crop that "contributes to the cause of lung cancer."

PLAIN POLITICS

Sen. Kerr of Oklahoma, who a few weeks ago said Ike didn't have any brains, now refers to the term of former Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey as "The Humphrey-Dumpty Dud."

Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts has told associates he definitely WILL seek Democratic nomination for President in 1960.

Clearly demonstrated are pointers on pitching, catching, hitting, fielding and playing various infield positions.

SILVER STRAND GOING COMMERCIAL

"In Southern California the public can soon look forward to expanded facilities and concessions at Silver Strand Beach State Park," Chief Newton B. Drury of the Division of Beaches and Parks in Sacramento said recently.

He stated that in order to provide for the best concession services to the public it is desirable to receive as many bids as possible for the proposed concession. The term of the contract for the concession is from September 1, through December 31, 1958, and carries an option for extension of the contract to end December 31, 1959.

"This concession," said Mr. Drury, "is designed to allow the public to obtain the fullest recreational use of our southern beaches, such as Silver Strand and will provide for the vending of light foods, the rental of beach equipment such as umbrellas, back rests, sacked firewood for use in the beach fire-rings, and the sale of light items of fishing tackle." Bid proposals have been prepared and are ready for mailing.

RECORD PAYOFF FOR DEL MAR FAIR

An all-time high of $78,001 was paid winning exhibitors at the recently concluded County Fair at Del Mar.

Paul T. Mannen, manager, also released figures of interest.

The official gross attendance was 232,008 persons, an all-time high for a ten-day run. Last year 229,279 persons attended the Fair. Paid attendance this year was $176,900, compared with $179,412 in 1956.

A new kid's day record was established July 5 when 6,003 children were admitted. In addition, a record 33,334 tickets were sold by the PTA prior to the opening.

Final attendance report had been delayed pending ticket returns from the PTA and special services who handle tickets for armed services personnel.

bride complained that she shopped all the local stores but "could not find a maternity wedding gown."

We covered a report to the Highway Patrol last week concerning two Spring Valley men involved in a traffic hassle near Sweetwater and Troy Streets.

The officer who responded reported that two full-grown men got into an argument when the driver of one car approached the other too close at a stop intersection. The cars did not touch.

One word led to another and the two men got out of their cars and charged into each other with fists flying. When the Highway Patrol arrived on the scene, the men were sitting on opposite sides of the road, their faces bloody messes.

Since no traffic law was broken (there is no penalty in the traffic code for hitting your neighbor in the nose) the officer asked each man if he felt that he had gained satisfaction or whether he wanted to file a complaint against the other via the sheriff's office. Both were satisfied, neither had a complaint.

If there is a point here I hope it will encourage all "angry" drivers to meet on a common field of battle and beat each other's brains out.

The Logan (Ia.) Herald says a bore is someone who boasts about his accomplishments when he should be boasting about yours.

It's been a long time in coming but this is to congratulate the Helix Irrigation District for one thing. They have finally decided to separate the cost of selling water from capital expenditures.

This makes sense. The guy who uses the water should pay for it at so much a shot, a gallon or a cubic foot, or however they measure the stuff and this charge should include operational costs. Property owners should pay by taxes for the facilities by which the users are served.

Water trustees formerly started with a tax rate and assessed value and tried to squeeze the budget into that size. Now the water rate equals the cost of delivery plus overhead. The tax rate equals bond redemption costs plus other investments and overhead. And this is fine.

Now, if the board will get rid of the silly notion that we are an "irrigation" district, and charge "irrigators" at least our cost for supplying water, I could sleep better at night. Sometime I wake up, huddled in a dark corner of my room frightened and insecure because the feeling persists that my $14 water bill would be cut considerably if I didn't have to pay my share of the loss the district suffers when they sell water at the "irrigation" rate. When I vote for a trustee next year it won't be for a guy who insists on selling water to me and my neighbor at a profit for the district and at the same time sells an "irrigator" the same quality of water at a loss to me and you.

Pastor Bakken Back From Trip

Pastor and Mrs. H. C. Bakken returned a few days ago from a vacation trip to Portland, Oregon and San Francisco. They visited a brother and sister of Pastor Bakken at Portland and Sheridan, Oregon and a brother of the pastor at Novato, Calif. At San Francisco they called on a number of friends from days prior to their preparation for the ministry when they lived in that city.

Seventeen young folks are attending Bible Camp at Palomar Mountain this week. The camp began on Sunday afternoon and will conclude on Saturday morning.

On Monday at 9 a.m. Daily Vacation Bible School begins. The school will continue for two weeks. Boys and girls from the preschool age group through the eighth grade are invited to attend. There will be chapel service, Bible stories, handcraft, music, recreation, and refreshments. All boys and girls are invited to come.

A hick town is a place where teachers would slap the fire out of a sassy kid if his dad wasn't on the school board. — Richmond (Va.) News-Leader.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Clark, 9047 Koonce Drive, Spring Valley, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Lee, to Ronald Lucas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Lucas of 9160 La Mar Street, Spring Valley.

Miss Clark attended Spring Valley Elementary School, La Mesa Junior High School and Helix High School. She will attend the new Mt. Miguel High School this fall and is scheduled to graduate in 1958. At present she is employed at the Cornet Department Store in Lemon Grove.

Mr. Lucas also attended Spring Valley Elementary School and La Mesa Junior High School. From there he went to Grossmont and then graduated from Helix High in 1954. He is a full time fireman on the Spring Valley Fire Dept.

No date has been set for the wedding.

MILLION $ LOPPED OFF COURT HOUSE COSTS

A book-keeping transaction that would cut a million dollars from the estimated cost of the courthouse and jail has been approved by the Supervisors.

In another action the Board instructed Jean Vincenz county public works director, to draw up a report to the public explaining the delay in starting the project. The Board has been criticized recently for the delay. Voters approved an $8,400,000 bond issue for the building in November, 1954.

The reduction will be accomplished by delaying facilities not needed at the beginning, but will be added later and paid for out of general funds.

T. M. Heggland said the reduction would bring the initial cost of the project to $11,922,499 —$436,168 more than the county has on hand to begin construction. Included in the reduction are some features that have been eliminated and some changes in specifications.

Items deferred and their estimated costs are:

1. Three elevators, $70,000. The shafts for the elevators would be built.
2. Escalators, $150,000.
3. Granite for the outside walls, $60,000.
4. Painting of the exterior concrete, $62,500.
5. Painting of concrete and bars in jail, $31,000.

Other items dropped are: waterproof floors in the jail, saving $100,000; colored side walks, $1,390; a stainless steel wall in officers' dining room, $2,035, and a built-in information desk in the lobby, $1600.

The county now has on hand $10,586,322 for initial building cost. Of this, $8,400,000 is bond money and $2,186,322 is from general funds.

Also approved by the Board was $12,216 increase in cost of new law library, which also goes to county Retirement Board for approval. Tests show that footings for the Library will have to be sunk to 16 feet, instead of 10 ft. as originally planned. Retirement Board approval is necessary because it is financing the building of the library, which will be leased to the county. (You figure out how come.)

Way Club Plans 'This Is Your Life' Program

The Way Club, an inter-denominational social club for teenagers, is holding a combination talent show and box social Friday. The meeting is to be held in the Woman's Clubhouse in Lemon Grove and will begin at 7:30 p.m.

After the installation service, a "This Is Your Life" program is to be given. The person whose life is to be portrayed will not be revealed until the program begins. The box social is the last thing planned for the evening and all girls attending are to bring a box lunch for two which will be auctioned off. The meeting is open to the public.

Festive and authentic atmosphere will be imparted by more than $300,000 in fancy saddles and other trappings. In addition there will be 150 riders and ropers competing for $6,000 in purses, and such stars at the Onordarka Drill Team, renowned trick roper, Vern Goodrich, nationally known rodeo clown, Sher Crane, the Camp Pendleton eight-horse color guard, Miss San Diego, Kathy de Kirby, and a host of others.

CALEXICANS PICNIC IN BALBOA PARK

The chickens are roosting high in Calexico this week.

You know, of course, that Calexico folks had a big picnic in Balboa Park on the Sixth Street side at Maple on July 28. Wonderful place for a picnic, beautiful big eucalyptus trees furnish plenty of shade, and green lawns all around.

We didn't know any Calexicans —haven't been there for 25 years, so we were lost in the crowd of picnickers and their San Diego friends, many of whom came from the city to visit with old friends.

Heard one lady say, "Why Agnes, I haven't seen you for 30 years and yau haven't changed a bit."

I didn't get to the affair until about 1 p.m, and there were many evidences of chicken having been the main dish on the menu. You can imagine that 400 people would demolish the bodily structure of a number of fryers.

Slim Ackley, who was a highway patrolman and policeman for 29 years in the Calexico area, now living in La Mesa, had his wife and small son, play pen and toys, proudly introduced his family, said he saw lots of folks he knew but couldn't remember their names, and Ben Whorley, former newspaper man in San Diego and Calexico on the Chronicle, was affected the same way. He couldn't remember the names of the various editors he had worked under, but he had a good time. He and Slick had a nice talk about old times.

The ladies went into huddles and, Boy! how they chatted. Of course, the men did a little chatting among themselves.

Harry Bowman, sponsor of the six picnics held on the last Sunday in July for the past six years, was on hand, gave each "oldtimer" a shipping tag with a string to tie it on and his name hand-printed.

At 3 o'clock the party began to break up. Most of the attendants came to tell Harry good-bye. He told 'em all "we'll be here the last Sunday in next July.

Hary faces an operation for cataract on his right eye this month, says confidently he will be able to see good again.

Otis B. Tout, veteran newspaper man, who headquartered in El Centro, left the Valley in 1922, after pioneering. Otis is working on a revised edition of History of Imperial Valley, soon to be published.
